Genocide run [A Flowey,CharaXReader]

Chapter One: The Underground

They said there was a mountain that contained magical creatures just a bit far off the old lands of Ireland. The special magical mountain that was always in old folk tales. Mt. Ebott. I decided to see what all the fuss was about. So, I sneaked out from the orphanage I resided in. I hiked my way up the grassy field and into the mountains. It didn't take me long to reach there.

I finally took a step into the cave. It was so dark I could hardly see. I tried to look around at my surroundings. Complete darknessâ€¦ waitâ€¦ I can see a dim light. It wasâ€¦ movingâ€¦ Could this be a monster? I decided to go after it. It moved as I tried to get closer to it. It finally stopped. I ran for it. I tripped over something and I seemed to be free falling. I looked up as the green light followed me down. I shut my eyes tightly. I didn't know what was going to happen to me. The green surrounded me only seconds later engulfing me. I finally stopped falling as I landed on a pile of yellow flowers. I took in my surroundings. I was at the bottom of the cave. I decided to get up and walk around. I headed forwards in my tracks. I found a door to the left at the end of the hall way. Once I entered it, I was greeted by a talking yellow flower. I jumped a bit when he talked to me. I know I'm like 8 and all, butâ€¦ I don't think flower's should be talkingâ€¦ "Howdy! I'm Flowey. Flowey the Flower. You're new to the Underground arentcha? Somebody should teach you how things work around down here. Guess that'll be me~" Suddenly little pellets surrounded him. "You see. We share LOVE with our friends with these little white friendliness pellets. And, you do want LOVE don't you?" Oh goshâ€¦ The adults warned me about these kind of peopleâ€¦ "Uh, I don't want love thank you very muchâ€¦ I'll just be heading on my wayâ€¦" I was about to go around him until his pellets blocked the exit. "Where do you think YOU'RE going!?" His face looked like it was melting. I screamed out in fear. He laughed at me as the friendliness bullets encircled around me. 'Put your hands up.' I heard a voice in my head say. So, I did. I was surprised to see green fire coming from them. I'm not sure this is normalâ€¦

The fire hit the 'friendliness pellets' and they disappeared. I looked behind the fire to see Flowey's face becoming confused, but lightened up after a minute or two. "Ah, I see you know what's going on around here don't you, Chara?" I just looked at him confused. "Who's Chara?" I tried to speak out, but couldn't. 'That would be me.' I looked back to see a figure standing by the door way. 'The names Chara, and I'll be your 'PERSONAL' guide throughout this place.' I seen the figure emerge from the darkness. It was a kid around my age I assumed. They were wearing a stripe green shirt after all. But, their eyes are redâ€¦ It almost looked as if their eye was bleeding. "Y-Your eye!" I tried to scream out. They looked to where I was pointing. "Ah, yesâ€¦ thisâ€¦ Wait, hold up a minute." They turned around and put their hands to their eye. They then turned back towards my direction, they had a beautiful shade of brown orbs. I could get lost in them if I wanted to. "H-Hey, stop looking at me like thatâ€¦" They turned their head away from me. "S-sorryâ€¦" I then heard Flowey clear his throat. "Ahem! Let's get going shall we?" Flowey lead me through the Underground. He instructed me to fight the monsters. But, I already felt like I've been here before and I knew exactly how to fight them. I looked at Chara and Flowey who routed me on. Chara decided to give me this 'power' to fight. They said it would be easier for me to 'deal with all of them'. And it was! Chara told me to turn to one of the doors where there was a bowl of candy. Chara instructed me to take as many as I wanted, in which their case meant 'the whole bowl'. So, I filled up my 'inventory' with candy as Chara would state it. Flowey started talking to me about Chara and his past. I was really happy when he talked about the fun they had together. I didn't really have a friend to share some good times withâ€¦ I was usually an outcast in the orphanage and at school. No one would talk to me because they thought I was weird. I guess Chara noticed me being sad. "Hey, what's the matter with you?" They asked trying to sound like a bully, but I could tell. Past that lie of sounding like a bully they were sincere. "I-its nothing." I muttered as Chara looked at me in a funny way. We moved onto some puzzles that was already solved. " You know that human that came before you, Frisk? Yeah, Toriel didn't reset the traps due to her thinking that Frisk would 'save' the day and let the monsters walk upon the surface againâ€¦ Psh, what a joke am I right, Chara?" Flowey asked. I looked at Chara in wonderment. Why would another person come down here? Who's Frisk? "Chara just touched my head with their figure as green fire came through it. Images started flashing through my mind. Suddenly, I knewâ€¦ Everything. "W-why would you-" I asked Chara in disbelief. All these memories, all these tragic eventsâ€¦ A kid like Chara shouldn't see or know of these kind of thingsâ€¦ "You ask too much questions." Chara walked on ahead. "And, it seemsâ€¦ you and I aren't so different after allâ€¦"

Suddenly, we arrived at a small house. "Home." Both Flowey and Chara stated at the same time. I opened the door as me and Flowey stepped inside. We were greeted by the smell of butterscotch pie. "Go to the kitchen." Chara stated. I knew EXACTLY what they wanted. I went over and grabbed the knife that was placed upon the cutting board. "Good choice." Flowey smiled at me. Chara then looked in the fridge. "No chocolateâ€¦ I could really go for some sweets right about nowâ€¦" Chara grumbled. "You want a piece of candy?" I asked. Flowey said "Sure." While Chara nods. I handed one to Flowey and turned to secretly give one to Chara. They both had the same reaction on their face once I handed the candy to them. A blush while looking somewhere else. I swear with these two acting so much alike you'd think they're the same person. We headed down to the basement of this house and seen a goat woman blocking the way. "Oh, child are you-" Her words got cut off by a gasp as she seen Flowey. Both Flowey and I used our 'magic' to kill her. Flowey with his petal bullets and me with the knife engulfed by Chara's green flame.

I opened the door to the next area. There was white powder covering me. The monster's souls~ I had a newfound feeling within me.

"I'm feeling a little Genocidal this time around~"

Author's Note: Alright! Finally got the FloweyXReader Done! After the Genocide run the story will change into a pacifist run. Now, time to move on to Bill CipherXReader X3 See ya guys in the next one!
Buh-bye~
